LAZEROW APPOINTED TO COUNTY LABOR PANEL

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has reappointed University of San Diego Law Professor Herbert Lazerow to a full four-year term on the San Diego County Employee Relations Panel. The Panel functions as a little National Labor Relations Board for the County and its employees, deciding unfair labor practice charges and determining bargaining units for county employees.

The 32 year old Lazerow, a resident of La Jolla, was first appointed to the Employee Relations Panel in June, 1971, to fill an unexpired term. His reappointment was pursuant to the unanimous recommendation of county management and the unions representing county employees. "Organized public employee labor relations in this country is a new field", Lazerow commented, "and the institutions for effectuating cooperation between employee organizations and governments are in their infancy. Nonetheless, even so short a time as my six months on the panel has seen a measurable improvement in the use of the labor relations machinery for constructive goals."

Professor Lazerow has been on the faculty of the University of San Diego since September 1967. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Pennsylvania, his J.D. from Harvard, and his LL.M. from George Washington University. He is the author of numerous articles.
